ANDREW STEWART
B.S.A., M.A., L.L.D.
President

The message from the President in the 1959-60 Evergreen and Gold will be written by a new President.

I am writing this at the close of the Jubilee Year. It has been a great privilege to be associated with the students of the University of Alberta for almost half of its first 50 years. As the University begins a new period, it seems appropriate that it should have a new President.

Students have experience of the University only for a few years. Most of them, we hope, develop an attachment to the institution and remember with appreciation the contribution it has made to their personal growth. The teacher or administrator who has made his life within the University finds many satisfactions. These include the experience of seeing students develop under his guidance and leave the University to make important contributions to life outside the University. Travelling across Canada one meets graduates everywhere. This is one of the pleasures we hope to continue to enjoy in the years ahead.

I am happy to have this opportunity to express our warm good wishes to all students now in attendance at the University. We are grateful to you, and to those who have preceded you, for your part in providing the many happy memories we will take with us. Like you, we will not be able to forget that we have been a part of the University of Alberta.

Board of Governors

The Board of Governors has final authority in all matters not specifically reserved in the University Act to someone else. Although the Board cannot be held responsible for the actions of individual students or student organizations, much of its responsibility can neither be delegated nor evaded. The president of the Board of Governors, Mr. C. M. MacLeod, is appointed by the Government of the Province of Alberta.

Senate

The Senate is concerned with public relations and matters affecting the general welfare of the University. It is responsible for providing for student self-government on the campus.

General Faculty Council

The General Faculty Council is the senior legislative body overseeing academic life at the University. This group legislates according to advice given it from the Dean's Council. Chairman of the General Faculty Council is the President of the University.

STUDENTS' COUNCIL

LOU HYNDMAN
President

As you thumb through this pictorial record, not only now but in the years to come, it is hoped that you will remember the year 1958-59 as a busy and exciting year.

Your students' council has attempted to stimulate activity in all facets of student life, in addition to carrying out the routine duties of campus administration. The interests and attentions of Council have been varied; they have ranged from residences and parking to Jubilee Day, from food facilities and censorship to pep rallies. Behind the scenes, major changes have been carried out in the internal organization of student government.

If we have improved your welfare to some degree, if we have given you some small satisfaction, we will be content that our efforts were justified.

May I express my sincere appreciation, and that of my Council, to all those who have given so willingly and unselfishly of their time and energy to make the year successful. Their efforts have made the task of student government a pleasant and rewarding experience.

WAUNEITA COUNCIL

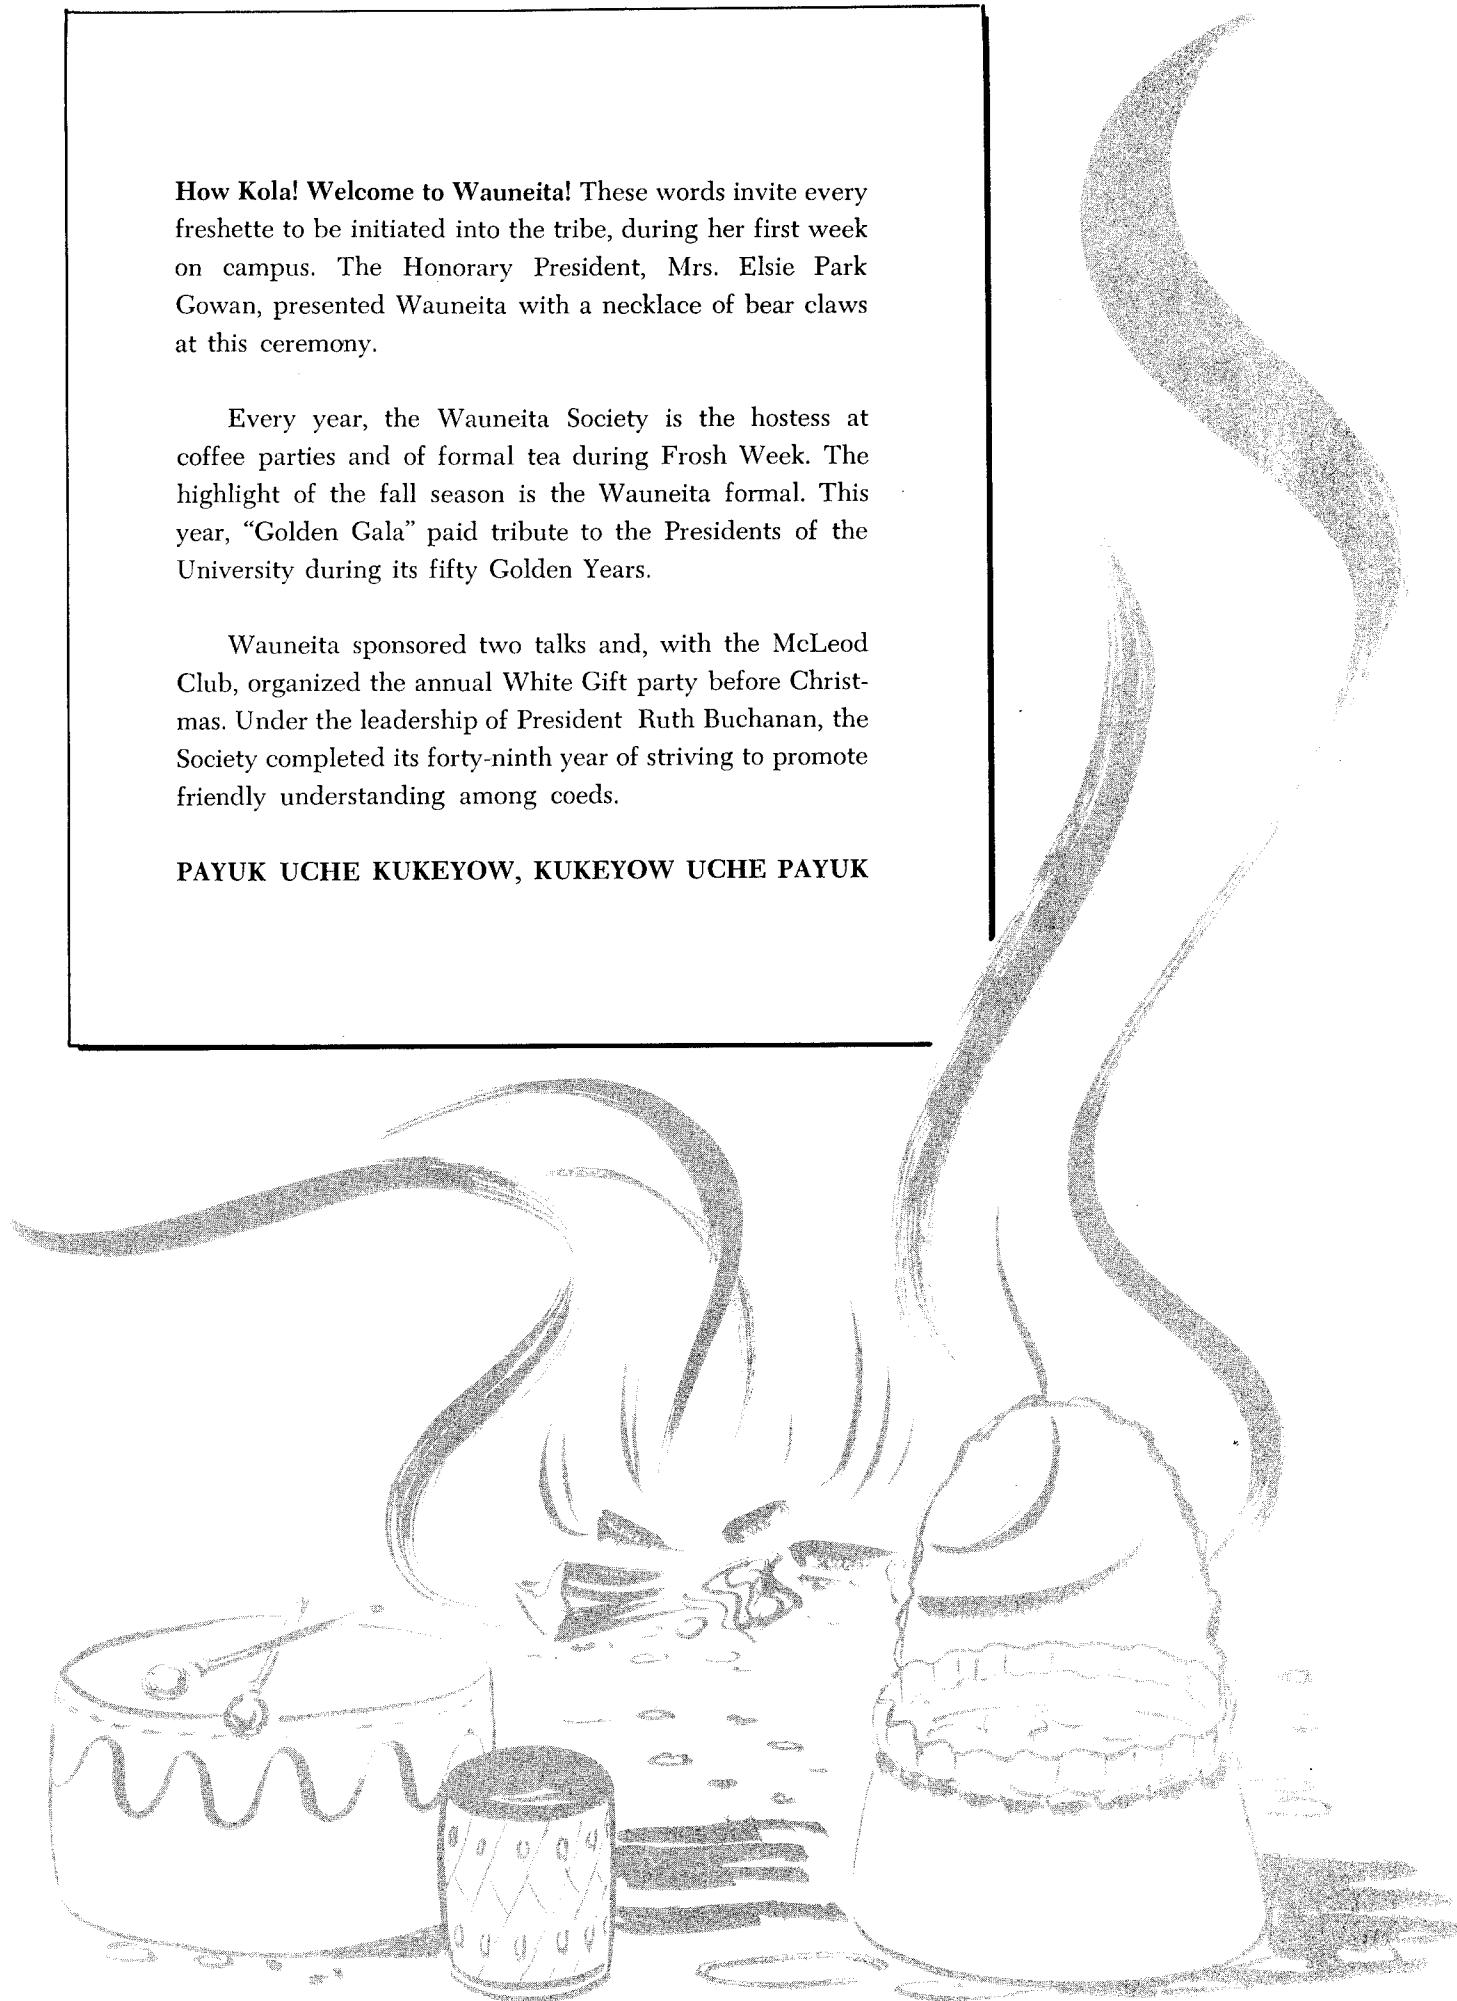

How Kola! Welcome to Wauneita! These words invite every freshette to be initiated into the tribe, during her first week on campus. The Honorary President, Mrs. Elsie Park Gowan, presented Wauneita with a necklace of bear claws at this ceremony.

Every year, the Wauneita Society is the hostess at coffee parties and of formal tea during Frosh Week. The highlight of the fall season is the Wauneita formal. This year, "Golden Gala" paid tribute to the Presidents of the University during its fifty Golden Years.

Wauneita sponsored two talks and, with the McLeod Club, organized the annual White Gift party before Christmas. Under the leadership of President Ruth Buchanan, the Society completed its forty-ninth year of striving to promote friendly understanding among coeds.

GOLDEN KEY SOCIETY

Each year, at the annual Color Night, blue blazers with their distinctive golden key crest are awarded to a carefully selected group of students who contribute outstandingly to campus life. Those receiving this award become members of the Golden Key Society. Such yearly highlights as Freshman Introduction Week and Varsity Varieties are organized and conducted by the Gold Key, led this year by Barry Vogel. They also act as hosts for all official guests of the Students' Union on the campus.

VALEDICTORY 1959

MORTON BROWN

*Two roads diverged in a yellow wood, And both that morning equally lay
And sorry I could not travel both In leaves no step had trodden black.
And be one traveller, long I stood Oh, I kept the first for another day.
And looked down one as far as I could Yet knowing how way leads on to way
To where it bent in the undergrowth; I doubted if I should ever come back.*

*Then took the other, as just as fair, I should be telling this with a sigh
And having perhaps the better claim, Somewhere ages and ages hence:
Because it was grassy and wanted wear; Two roads diverged in a wood, and I—
Though as for that the passing there I took the one less travelled by,
Had worn them really about the same, And that has made all the difference.*

—The Road Not Taken
By Robert Frost

On this, the occasion of our graduation, we too are faced with a choice of paths. I do not here speak of a choice of skills, or profession, or occupations; a choice which many of us have already made. I speak of the more important choice of our life's direction; not how we shall journey, but where. We should shoulder this burden of choice as a father shoulders his child, with pride, with tenderness, and with gratitude.

We must remember that our formal learning is only a gateway to the lifelong process of self-education. So let us choose the lonelier path, the continuing search for knowledge and "whatsoever things are true". It is the lonelier path for never has it been, nor is it now, the highway of most men. We shall venture forward as explorers, neither with the purpose of sublimating ourselves in society and conventionality, nor with the purpose of isolating ourselves, for those who travel the lonelier path must never lose touch with the more numerous travellers of the paved roads. We must not hide our tracks, but keep them well-marked that they may be followed and extended.

To walk the more secluded byways demands the greater self-reliance, initiative, and strength of individuality. With these, loneliness need not be feared, nor should it be derided, nor heaped with automatic compassion. The privilege of attending this university has brought with it enormous opportunity for the acquisition of strength through self-betterment and self-enrichment. Such opportunity has some uniqueness, but it is by no means the exclusive right of the university student; nor must the process end when we leave the university. Furthermore, it has been a superior opportunity only if it did not bring with it attitudes of superiority. We depart, not armed with books, or facts, or a scroll, but with stronger selves. We have been improved by our friendship and association with, by our regard and respect for our professors, and the personnel of this university. We have developed some potentialities, and discovered others, by our search for knowledge, and only secondarily by our accumulation of knowledge. For if there is the desire, any fact which has been forgotten can be regained; but without that driving desire all that has been remembered is valueless. On leaving this university we can carry with us only that which we have personalized, only that which we have made part of ourselves. Our strength is measured by the ability to communicate with ourselves, and the desire to communicate to others.

With this privilege goes the inseparable obligation to share our good fortunes, and to propagate and perpetuate for subsequent generations our privileges. Even more, we must expand the vistas for self-development.

We now look backward, to our sojourn at this university, and forward, to our departure, and so are we filled with a mixture of remorse for things undone, of satisfaction in things accomplished, and of hope, spiced with fear, for things to be. In looking outward do we see a lifting of the haze which has shrouded our past wandering? And peering inward can we see ourselves as we are? Have we in our stay at this university suffered the pangs of revolution—"the really revolutionary revolution" of the soul and flesh? And have our joys been the joys of escape or the joys of discovery? When shall we be the ramrods of organization and when the alarm clocks of social slumber? The answers to these questions are found within ourselves, and by ourselves, but not for ourselves.

We have been conceived and nurtured in this university. For us it has been a second womb. On this day of our birth, let us show that we have not been stillborn. Let us loose, in time-honored tradition, a hell-raising cry of determination to survive. This shall be our farewell to our alma mater.

CLASS HISTORY

AL LANG

The fundamental concern of any individual or group is the future and the promise it holds for them. However, since it is easier to pretend wisdom in surveying the past than it is to present a sound forecast of what lies ahead, the class history should attempt to evaluate the part which our academic and extra-curricular interests and activities have had in preparing us for our future.

It is superfluous at this time to discuss the expansive development of this campus and its facilities, which is more easily conceived simply by viewing the impressive new buildings, the recent excavations, or the small forests of girders springing from the campus lawns. Instead, the significant realization is the development of the individual during his life here, which necessarily represents the fundamental purpose of this institution of learning.

The first impression of any new environment is dependent on the individual's attitude and mental set. The freshmen who found themselves transplanted bag and baggage at the rear door of Athabasca Hall faced with the responsibility of introducing themselves into a new world where they knew no one and, at the same time, wondering where they would sleep. Suddenly the fascination and promise with which a high school student regards university life was overwhelmed by the crying necessity of becoming an accepted part of this foreign community. More than once it was necessary for them to remind themselves that they were only few of many in the same position and therefore, in one sense, a part of the group with whom they wished to identify themselves.

Frosh Week, with its terrifying battery of questions and answers, anxious speculation as to how long the money would last at that rate of spending, was coupled with the doubts many others harbored concerning their selection of vocation or their way of approaching it. For lonely and bewildered freshmen, perhaps the gay social whirl of this first week was too concentrated. However, cherished in memory is the blissful oblivion of a snake dance and the metaphysical mob spirit which adopted refugees from East Overshoe, whose own initiative was too inadequate to successfully advance them to join the group. It is unfortunate that the same metaphysical spirit struck such terror in the hearts of those at whom it charged. Among all the deliberate attempts and organized efforts of the upperclassmen to successfully introduce these displaced persons, the greatest benefit for some came with living in residence. Here, being in the new social community was reinforced by living in a close geographical one where there was greater opportunity to make easy acquaintances.

Following this initial impact began the gradual assimilation of ideas and concepts which enabled these new students to write their first exams, become more firmly established in the social organization or fraternity of their choice, or run for their first office. At this time the freshman was thrilled by the friendly smile of a professor or adviser or by the greeting of an upperclassman who was accepted non-critically as being the epitome of scholastic or social success. The ending of the first year was signalled by the bell in the drill hall which dismissed him from the last of the final exams, and the sense of euphoria but exhaustion which naturally accompanies the thrill of accomplishment. The prospect of rushing off to the North to finance the second session was tempered by the relief that student worries and responsibilities could be legitimately deserted for a few months. However, September at Tuktoyaktuk again found one anxious—this time to drop the flashlight he had been holding for three months and to return to this community of friends and continue with the second installment at accomplishing something towards a goal. This cycle, or a similar one, repeated itself annually; but the individual was changing. Some began to question their wise-eyed non-critical attitude towards university life, both academically and socially. The inevitable result often found perverse and negativistic snobs whose sophomoric duty was to criticize equally without question. Instead of being impressed with the gleaming expanse of the highly-varnished dance floor in the drill hall, they became concerned as to whether the roof would collapse before or after they finished writing that tough exam. The fine art of criticism developed to the stage where the formerly beautiful sounds from the gilded pipes of the organ in Con Hall were analyzed by so-called scientifically-trained ears to sound as honking, squeaking, vibrating columns of air.

Depending on the acceptance of the more mature attitudes around them, and their identification with these, our friends advanced to the tertiary stage of the university student. Some became intoxicated on a cocktail of psychology and social altruism, trying with varying amounts of success to define the boundaries of non-conformity, sophistication, and eccentricity. Some aspired to the realms of Gold Key or Council so they could shed the light of their vast (!) experience on the mass behind them. They found themselves crying for the right of the student to be an individual, while at the same time paradoxically despising the so-called immaturity of the massmen who, to them, represented a younger generation.

Now as seniors, our classmates find themselves not unwilling to leave a community and way-of-life which has become a part of them; now anxious to venture into a chosen career, despite feelings of inadequacy. Now they realize that the final stage of the maturing process will, in fact, only commence with assuming a position in the future community. They will look back at university life to realize that the glamour and fascination which attracted them there first has been replaced by a different set of emotions and thoughts. With these they will comprehend the real place of the university as a disciplined community which has produced the honesty and wisdom which individuals must value to be a beneficial example to their own or a younger generation.

This year's Symphony Orchestra enjoyed the most successful season to date, under the direction of Professor A. B. Crighton. In December the Symphony, along with the University Singers, presented a program of Christmas Music in Convocation Hall. At the end of February the Symphony gave its annual concert. During Varsity Guest Weekend the Symphony combined with the Mixed Chorus to present an afternoon concert.

Socially, the Symphony members enjoyed numerous parties as well as the annual banquet.

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA MIX

The Chorus' activities of this year were, as always, a big success. They enjoyed another season of singing and merry-making under the direction of Professor Richard S. Eaton.

The first activity of major importance took place in December when the Chorus cheered patients of the University and Mewburn Hospitals with a program of traditional Christmas Carols.

The annual Concerts given at the end of January in Convocation Hall were highlighted by two cantatas. The favorite of the evening at each concert was a series of three French-Canadian Folk Songs which were arranged by Professor Eaton himself. Immediately after the opening night concert, a party was given for Chorus members, Chorus Alumni and friends of the Chorus in Wauneita Lounge.

Following the Edmonton concert, the Chorus journeyed to Leduc, Calgary, and Lacombe. On the Friday night after the concert, at the Calgary Jubilee Auditorium, the Chorus members gathered at the home of some alumni for a good time before going to their billet for the night. As always, the Chorus found hospitality, good food and wonderful new friends on their travels.

During February the Chorus recorded a half-hour broadcast for the C.B.C. and presented an afternoon concert on Varsity Guest Weekend. They also had a trip to Lloydminster where they gave a concert at the request of an alum who has made his home there.

At the beginning of May, after exams are behind them, the Chorus members will tour the southern part of the province for two weeks when they will meet some more of Alberta's music-lovers.

NO CEILING IN ENGINEERING

● Every year brings challenging new demands to Canadian engineering. The nation's rapid industrial expansion . . . the need for more advanced scientific defence techniques . . . the desire of Canada's people for better living through the products of engineering . . . all these keep the horizon steadily broadening for the country's engineers.

Matching the new demands are new engineering advances that give promise of further development with no limit in sight. To the student with ability in maths and science, Engineering offers a stimulating and rewarding future.

Canadians, more than any other people, benefit from electric power. Abundant low-cost electricity is one of the important reasons for so many busy factories . . . greater production of goods . . . and better paying jobs. In offices, on farms, and in homes, everywhere, electric power makes life easier and more enjoyable.

What Does LBE Mean to You?

LBE stands for "Live Better . . . Electrically", and these words have a very real meaning behind them.

In the home, for example, planned lighting brings new charm and cheerfulness to every room. Modern appliances in the kitchen and laundry save time and toil. Other appliances contribute to our leisure and entertainment. Automatic heating and air conditioning add to our comfort. There probably isn't an area in your home that cannot be equipped electrically to give more convenience, more comfort, and more service.

In home, office or factory the first essential is an up-to-date wiring system — to get the best results from the electrical products now in use, and provide for those you expect to acquire. Your local power company, your provincial Electric Service League, or any qualified electrical contractor will be glad to provide expert advice and help you to plan to "Live Better . . . Electrically".

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA

The RCAF University of Alberta Squadron held a Ceremony of Inspection Thursday, March 12th in the Varsity Drill Hall. This parade was to mark the graduation of 25 cadets from the Squadron. Dr. W. H. Johns, President of the University inspected the Squadron and took the salute on the March Past. The highlight of the ceremony was the presentation of awards to outstanding cadets. Canadian Forces' Decorations were presented to F/C R. C. Beers, F/C C. G. Maybee and F/C E. H. Cook. Two trophies were presented by G/C Wm. Smith. F/C R. J. Thompson was presented with the trophy for outstanding contribution to squadron activities for a cadet of the third year. F/C E. H. Cook received the trophy awarded to a second year cadet. The Training Command Band was in attendance. All executive positions in the parade were filled by cadets. F/C T. W. Law was the parade commander. Coffee was served to the Squadron and invited guests in the Wauneita Lounge following the ceremony.

The activities of the RCAF University Flight Cadets are divided into winter and summer training. The training given in the RCAF is designed to coincide with the university programme. During the summer cadets serve at RCAF units throughout Canada. The first year cadets journey to Eastern Canada where they are joined by members from 37 other universities and colleges for officer school training. Female cadets attend officer school at Centralia, Ontario. Male cadets obtain their first taste of Air Force routine at College Militaire Royale de St. Jean, St. Jean, P.Q.

Lectures, tours and social events were once again on the agenda on the winter programme. Noted speakers lectured on many interesting facets of the RCAF and current affairs. The RCAF Squadron visited both the Edmonton and Provincial Civil Defence Headquarters. A competitive sports evening was held at the Tactical Air Command Gym with the officers emerging victorious. The social programme was highlighted by two Mess Dinners at RCAF Station Namao. A Tri-Service smoker was held at H.M.C.S. Nonsuch. Cadets of the three services and their guests enjoyed the Tri-Service Ball at the Hamilton Gault Barracks at Griesbach this year.

Four Alberta cadets have been chosen to serve in France and Germany this summer. They are F/C R. Thompson, F/C W. Tytula, F/C C. Rosenquist and F/C T. Mowat.

The Parade Commander F/C T. Law accompanies Dr. W. H. Johns, President of the University, for inspection of the cadets.

G/C W. M. Smith presents F/C E. H. Cook with merit award.

On the back fifty or on the wide acres of the prairie . . . Massey-Ferguson tractors and equipment give more productive power to farmers everywhere.

MASSEY-FERGUSON headed for new horizons!

Massey-Ferguson—one of the largest farm machinery firms in the world today—is headed for new horizons of achievement! It's a Canadian company that's truly on the move . . . keeping pace with farming progress throughout the world by meeting farmers' needs for new products and high standards of service.

Today's progressive farmers know that to provide a growing world population with sufficient food, farm mechanization is essential. The old agricultural techniques and tools are inadequate; new machines and methods are needed to make more of every acre and of every hour the farmer works. Living standards measured in terms of food consumption are high. This shows how successful the progressive, mechanized farmers are . . . heading for new horizons of better food production for us all.

Massey-Ferguson plays an important part in this new era of mechanized farming—shares with farmers everywhere agriculture's great advances to higher standards of farming through better equipment and dependable service.

This is the sign of all that's best and most progressive in modern farming equipment and service.

Cadet Training consists of two summers and three winters while at university. The summers find cadets stationed on both east and west coasts of Canada, where they train in parade movements, navigation, naval history, communications, and seamanship. Cruises in the Navy's ships may take them to Europe, the United States, Jamaica and Hawaii as well as the ports of Canada. The winter syllabus at HMCS Nonsuch extends this training and prepares the cadets for their summers with the Royal Canadian Navy as they work towards the attaining of a Queen's commission.

COTC

UNIVERSITY OF ALBERTA CONTINGENT

The purpose of the C.O.T.C. program is to provide a means of training individuals attending university as officers for the Regular Army or the Militia. Each training year is in two parts, a theoretical phase which is taken at the university during the academic year and a practical phase each summer, normally taken at a Corps School or Regular Army unit.

The theoretical phase in the winter covered a wide range of topics, including military history, tactics, organization, leadership, and military law. In addition, cadets participated in competitive rifle shooting. The contingent participated in the Golden Jubilee dedication service commemorating the fiftieth anniversary of the University of Alberta, as well as in the annual Armistice Day Memorial Service. On the social side, members took part in the Military Mixer dance and the formal Tri-Service Military Ball. The annual Mess Dinner, held at the Officers' Mess, Western Army Command, rounded out the winter term.

In the summer, the practical phase of training saw contingent members attending their respective corps schools at various army centres across Canada, from Chilliwack, B.C., to Barriefield, Ontario. Studied at first hand were basic military fundamentals, leadership, weapons training, tactics, and technical training of the corps. In summer, 1958, two of the best cadets were posted to Germany for service with the Regular Army.

1833... Canadian built ship makes first all-steam Atlantic crossing and Standard Life pioneers life assurance in Canada

An important event in 1833 was the first all-steam crossing of the Atlantic which was made by a Canadian built ship, the "Royal William". In the same year, life assurance was brought to Canada by The Standard Life, when an agency was opened in Quebec City.

In those days the population of the whole of Canada was little more than 750,000 and Montreal had less than 55,000 inhabitants. Nevertheless from a small beginning the Company's Canadian business progressed and in 1846 the Head Office for Canada was opened in Montreal with a local Board of Directors under the Chairmanship of the Honourable Peter McGill. Extension of our operations to other cities soon followed and it is of particular interest to note that an agency was established in Vancouver at a time when the only practicable way of reaching the Pacific Coast was by sea via Cape Horn. Today we are proud that our business continues to expand and to prosper with Canada and that we are ready to play our part in the great future which lies ahead. The Company's Canadian assets held in trust for policyholders and their beneficiaries now exceed $200 millions and these funds are at work in Canada assisting in the expansion and prosperity of the economy. While this is an indication of the importance of the Company's interests in Canada, it is but incidental to the primary function which we perform in providing protection and security for more than 100,000 Canadian citizens who have entrusted their savings to us.

EATON'S OF CANADA

In December, 1869—almost 90 years ago—Timothy Eaton opened the first small store that was to become the foundation of the great nation-wide EATON'S OF CANADA that we know today! During all of its years of growing with Canada EATON'S has adhered to the founder's guiding principle: "the greatest good to the greatest number". And the famous EATON guarantee: "Goods Satisfactory or Money Refunded"—first enforced by Timothy Eaton—is still an integral part of EATON policy in this year of 1959!

EATON'S brings to Canadian homes the best values in merchandise obtainable, and EATON service aims at all times to be friendly, efficient, personalized! Shopping at EATON'S is a happy experience—a satisfying experience—and it is enjoyed by Canadians in every walk of life, in every part of the country, every week day throughout the year.
